

Garrison Keillor Inducted in 2016

For more than forty years, humor writer, Garrison Keillor, hosted the popular radio program A Prairie Home Companion. Five years later, he transformed the show into a weekly live broadcast, borrowing the name from his earlier program. The program features celebrity guests, skits, songs, fake commercials and stories about Lake Wobegon. And it is still going strong today, only with a new host, after a brief hiatus from 1987 to 1989. A popular part of A Prairie Home Companion has been Keillor's weekly monologue set in the quiet, fictional Minnesota town of Lake Wobegon, "where all the women are strong, all the men are good looking, and all the children are above average".
