Under his direction, the Rochester Lourdes High School Band, even though a private school, was “Rochester’s Band” playing every ribbon cutting, every parade and every Memorial Day service and on and on and winning many awards along the way. Whenever a dignitary or foreign head of state arrived at the airport to go to the Mayo Clinic, the band was there, at the mayor’s request, giving a rousing welcome. He was a bugler when he was in the Army and continues to this day playing the bugle at all the military funerals in Rochester. He has played with many musical groups throughout the years.
