

Minnesota Music Hall of Fame

Inductee

Mick Sterling

Inducted in 2015

Mick Sterling had his first performance in a Golden Valley, MN bar at age 4. Roger Miller's King of the Road earned him a few cherry cokes as he stood on top of the juke box singing along with Roger. Sterling's affinity for Elton John, Springsteen and others, became the pillars of his performing and song writing choices as he began his professional performing career in 1980. After returning to Minneapolis from playing with a band from St. Louis, he married his junior high school sweetheart, Kristi. They have two children. Sterling was asked to join his old band-mates in a project they started in which they needed his lead vocals. The band turned out to be Mick Sterling and the Stud Brothers. Sterling enjoys performing more than ever as he produces and performs in multiple shows in venues all around the Midwest.

